TRUST & APPROACH

Support you can trust, every step of the way.

Recharge is built around care, clarity and clear boundaries. Here's what that means for you.

Support, not diagnose.

Recharge supports everyday wellbeing and personal reflection. It is not intended to diagnose, treat or cure medical or mental health conditions, and it does not replace professional care when that is needed.

AI that guides, not defines you.

AI can help you reflect, explore perspectives and consider possible next steps. You remain in control of your choices.

Personalization with purpose.

Recharge is designed to become more relevant through the information, choices and interactions that matter to your experience.

More relevant, not more intrusive.

Privacy deserves care.

Personal wellbeing can involve information that matters to you. Recharge approaches privacy, data and user control thoughtfully and transparently.

Recharge is designed to support you with care, clarity and respect.

Trust should be part of the experience.
